Detox Deluxe Think space-age spa, and a sauna probably doesn't come to mind. But Sunlighten's mPulse "smart sauna," with its infrared (not steam) heating, plus a DVD player, Blaupunkt speakers, and floating bench, is a different story. Its Bauhaus-inspired design may be the main attraction, but touches like a biofeedback monitor that records calories burned and heart rate will keep tech fiends hooked for the long run. —Shane Martin
